U.S. AIR FLEET MAY HAVE HALTED SHORT OF MIDWAY ISLAND

Navy's Forty-Six Planes on Mass Flight Over 1,700 Miles of Water Unreported Since Leaving Hawaii—Weather Reports Indicate Storm Conditions Near Destination

HONOLULU, May 9 (AP).—The absence of reports on the progress of the navy's forty-six plane mass flight from Honolulu to Midway Island which started from here today gave rise to conjectures late tonight that the great armada might have stopped short of its projected destination.

Naval sources were silent on the matter because the unprecedented operation was shrouded in official secrecy.

STORMY WEATHER
However, in view of a weather report indicating storm conditions near Midway Island several hours previously, observers said the armada might have stopped at French Frigate Shoals, 500 miles out of Honolulu, or at Pearl and Hermes Reef, 100 miles this side of Midway.

It took one minute less than two hours for the heavily-loaded aircraft, bearing some 200 officers and men, to get into the air on one of the planes lined up in squadrons and streaked away.

GUIDED BY FLEET
Somewhere in the triangle between the North American mainland, Alaska and Hawaii, the United States fleet guided the planes by

EVILS NO SIGN OF WEAKNESSES

Hon. S. H. Cahan Says Bulk of Business Is Conducted on Honest Basis

MONTREAL, May 9 (CP).—Although certain evils developed in the economic system during years of depression, they were in the nature of "excesses" growth which indicated no fundamental weakness in the existing structure, Hon. S. H. Cahan, Secretary of State, said today in addressing a Montreal service club.

"For myself," he stated, "I am confident 90 per cent of the business of this country is conducted on an honest basis by men and women whose upright lives are beyond serious reproach, and that indiscriminate denunciation of prevailing business methods are unwarranted and unjust."

WOULD DESTROY CREDITS
The expiration of the so-called capitalistic system, advocated by the modern disciples of Karl Marx, would mean the destruction of the credits built up by millions of Canadians through careful saving and thrift, Mr. Cahan told his large audience.

In speaking of the credit of Canada which he described as "our chief national asset," the Secretary of State said it was of paramount importance that it should be carefully preserved if we are to escape a general and widespread financial collapse. Undue credit expansion might appear to promise temporary prosperity but at the expense of grave disasters in the future.

DINNER SERVED ON GOLD DISHES

His Majesty Has Hundred and Fifty Guests at Buckingham Palace

LONDON, May 9 (CP-Havas).—The King, tonight, celebrated his Jubilee at a dinner with 150 guests gathered around a great horseshoe table in the flower-decorated dining-room of Buckingham Palace.

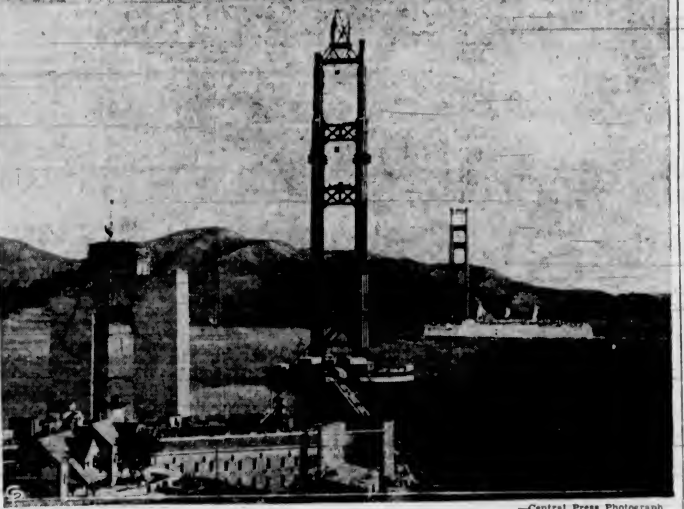

The famous golden dishes of Windsor were used for the beginning of the feast, which was marked by old-time pageantry and modern brilliance. For the desert the famous "Garter" porcelain dishes were used, each piece decorated with its individual design in gold and bearing the ancient motto of the Order of the Garter: "Honi Soit Qui Mal y Pense."

The King wore the uniform of a colonel of the Coldstream Guards; the Queen wore a blue, diamond-robe, with the famous Koh-i-Noor diamond.

VANCOUVER, May 9 (CP).—Over $300 worth of cloth and clothing was stolen from a department store at Broughton & Armstrong, Granville Street tailoring establishment, when thieves raided the premises early today.

Entry was gained when the thieves climbed the drain pipe to the roof and then smashed a skylight window.

Britain Planning to Greatly Strengthen Home Air Defences

Royal Air Force May Be Doubled and Compulsory Air Raid Drills May Be Instituted—Manufacturers Warned Against Accepting Foreign Orders Without Informing Ministry

LONDON, May 9 (CP).—Drafting plans which may call for doubling the home strength of the Royal Air Force at a cost of $120,000,000 over and above the increased air estimates already brought down, the Air Ministry today advised British aircraft manufacturers, not to accept foreign orders without consulting the ministry.

While the Ministry was warning manufacturers of the likelihood of a considerable demand on their facilities by the Government, it was forecast that compulsory air raid drill may soon be a feature of the life of the country. It is understood a country-wide scheme is in preparation for making the population of the United Kingdom "air-raid-minded" as part of the comprehensive plans for protection of the civil population.

SETS DATE FOR DEBATE
Meanwhile, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald definitely set May 22 as the date for the long-awaited Parliamentary debate on imperial defence. This debate has been postponed several times. The new date is expected to allow a week's time for reflection on Chancellor Adolf Hitler's important statement on German foreign policy, scheduled about May 15.

Details of the expansion programme for the Royal Air Force, announced when Prime Minister MacDonald affirmed the British intention to maintain parity with the rapidly-evolving new German air force, may be expected during the debate, it was understood. The forecast is that 600 fighting planes will be added within two years. Previous augmented programmes had called for building the force up to 1,000 planes.

The Air Ministry's communication to aircraft and engine manufacturers advised them provisionally of considerable demands in

ANOTHER MINE TO CLOSE DOWN

Number Five at South Wellington Worked Out—Exploration Work Planned

NANAIMO, May 9.—Saturday will see the end of another old coal mining town (as a coal mining town) on the island, when No. 5 mine at South Wellington will be closed down permanently. The last ton of commercially profitable coal will have been taken out, and the workings will be abandoned by the Western Fuel Company.

No. 5 is the last of a series of mines which have made the name of South Wellington famous since the opening of the old Alexandra mines by the Dunsmuir interests over forty years ago.

Fifteen years ago the Western Fuel Company opened No. 5 and employed 300 miners. The mine was operated intermittently until 1928, since which time it has been producing coal continuously with 100 miners employed at the time of closing down tomorrow.

Some of these men will be absorbed in the Reserve Mine, six miles south of Nanaimo, which has recently been reopened by the Western Fuel Company, and which is now producing some 300 tons daily.

Exploration work is also being carried on by the company at the old Challenger Mine near Northfield, which was closed down in 1898. An old shaft is being pumped out, and, if conditions are found satisfactory, this mine will probably be reopened in the not-distant future. No plans, however, can be announced until the old workings have been thoroughly examined.

PERSONAL AFFECTION MAKES KEYNOTE WHEN KING MEETS PARLIAMENT AT WESTMINSTER

Peers and Commons Assemble Together in Historic Building to Present Their Loyal Addresses to the Sovereign in Presence of Empire Premiers and Other Representatives

His Majesty Makes Inspiring Reply to Words of Loyalty

LONDON, May 9 (CP).—History was made today when the King and Queen traveled to ancient Westminster Hall, cradle of Parliamentary institutions, to receive loyal addresses from lords and commoners in the presence of the Empire Premiers and other Empire representatives.

It was the first time a British King had gone to Westminster Hall, where the first Parliament was summoned nearly 700 years ago by Simon de Montfort, to meet the peers and commons assembled together; and, as on previous state occasions during the celebration of the Royal Silver Jubilee, not all the pomp could hide notes of genuine personal affection.

UNABATED ENTHUSIASM
While the popular enthusiasm continues unabated, tomorrow will provide a lull in the state ceremonies. On Saturday, providing the weather is fine, Their Majesties will make the first of four projected drives through sectors of London, while the King's sons make Jubilee visits to Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland.

The Prince of Wales will leave for Cardiff, the Duke of York for Edinburgh and the Duke of Gloucester, for Belfast.

THANKSGIVING SERVICES
Thanksgiving services will be held in all churches on Sunday and there will be a state ball at Buckingham Palace on Tuesday.

The Empire Prime Ministers had their final gathering with Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald and members of the British Cabinet today. Some, however, are remaining over for some time, particularly Prime Minister J. A. Lyons, of Australia and Prime Minister G. W. Forbes, of New Zealand, who have important trade negotiations to conclude.

Their Majesties today were enthroned on a dais in the vast, grey-stone Westminster Hall, about them grouped many members of the

COLONY MAY BE RETURNED

South Africa Said to Be Willing to Give Up Former German Territory

LONDON, May 9 (AP).—Authoritative quarters said today the Union of South Africa is ready and willing to have Southwest Africa, formerly Germany's, returned to the Reich.

That revelation came as representatives of the Dominions and Colonies resumed their conversations with members of the British foreign policy.

Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, has already given the Empire statesmen full accounts of his recent visit to Berlin, during which Adolf Hitler, among other things, insisted Germany's right to colonise must be recognized.

TO CONSULT HERTZOG
It was confidently expected the views of J. B. M. Hertzog, Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa, would be sought in the matter of giving back to Germany some of the territory she lost in the Great War, because the Reich's greatest losses were in Africa.

Hertzog, it was understood, was prepared to tell Simon and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald that his Government would approve the step.

STATEMENT RECALLED
Observers here recalled that O. P. P. South African Minister of Defence, recently told visiting German naval officers he was looking forward to the day when Germany would be coming back to South Africa as a colonial power.

The authoritative quarters, however, emphasized there could be no official declaration of policy as to South Africa, which was made an integral part of the Union of South Africa in the postwar settlement, until Germany specifically raised the question regarding Southwest Africa.

Faith Continues in Trade Pacts
MONTREAL, May 9 (CP).—Continued faith in the Ottawa trade pact was expressed today by Sir Francis L. C. Floud, British High Commissioner, in addressing the British Trade Association, a branch of the Montreal Board of Trade.

"My hope is that the future will bring a great increase in competitive, rather than in competitive, production," he stated.

Ministers of Home And Overseas Lands Meet in Conference

Hold Conversations of Exploratory Character on International and Intra-Imperial Problems—Monetary Conference Recommended

LONDON, May 9 (CP).—The international situation was discussed again today at a two-hour meeting between members of the British Government, Prime Ministers of the Dominions, and a number of high commissioners and other ministers.

No definite announcement was forthcoming as to the nature of the discussions, but it was understood the Dominions conveyed their approval of British participation in a system of collective security in Europe.

REFER TO CEREMONY
At the meeting, held in Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's room in the House of Commons, Mr. MacDonald referred to the impressive Jubilee ceremony yesterday, at St. James' Palace, when Empire leaders expressed their devotion to the King and Queen. All the ministers

STRONG WORDS BRING PROTEST

Ethiopian Government Objects to Charge of Anarchy and Exploitation

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, May 9 (AP).—A new controversy between Italy and Ethiopia flared today as Emperor Haile Selassie prepared to leave the capital to inspect the strategic Harar district.

This Government protested in strong language to the Italian Minister here against an address made at the Chamber of Deputies on Tuesday by Alessandro Lessona, Italian Under-Secretary for Colonies, in which he assailed Ethiopia for asserted anarchy and exploitation of subject races.

DESIRE TRANQUILITY
[Dispatches from Rome on Tuesday quoted Lessona as saying Italy "desires that her colonies in East Africa may look to the future with secure tranquility, without being preoccupied over the uncertain policy of a neighboring state which gives no guarantee of living peacefully with other nations."

The protest filed with the minister not only expressed resentment at Lessona's speech but also referred pointedly to the Addis Ababa Government's view concerning Italian territorial aims in Africa, where 100,000 Italian troops have been concentrated during recent months.

PREMIER HAS NO ORGANIC DISEASE

Medical Report on Condition of Mr. Bennett Says Period of Rest Needed

LONDON, May 9 (CP).—A medical report on the condition of Prime Minister R. B. Bennett, made public today, said he had no organic disease, and that all he needed was a period of rest.

The Premier took advantage of his visit to London for the Royal Jubilee to consult a heart specialist. He suffered a slight heart ailment in March.

Mr. Bennett had an audience with the King today. He also attended the meeting of Empire Premiers and ministers at which the international situation was discussed.

Impressive List of Achievements Read When Degrees Taken

University of B.C. Holds Twentieth Annual Congregation—J. P. Babcock Given Honorary Degree—Premier Pattullo Traces History

VANCOUVER, May 9 (CP).—The first two decades in the life of the University of British Columbia were concluded today by the pageantry of the twentieth annual congregation before Premier T. D. Pattullo and other leaders of the Province as Chancellor R. E. McKechnie handed degrees in three faculties to 318 graduates.

An impressive prize and scholarship list, representing outstanding academic achievements, was announced during the ceremony, and the various medals and awards were presented.

The chancellor also conferred the fifteenth honorary degree of Doctor of Laws and Letters (LL.D.), the history of the university, spoke highly of its work and prophesied changes in the political and economic world into which the graduates are entering.

"The University of British Columbia is young as universities go, but within the time and means at its disposal has made truly remarkable progress," the Premier said. "That the university will require to meet changed conditions from time to time is self-evident, but I am firmly convinced that the interests of our people lie in rallying to the support of the university to the fullest possible extent in order that its practical and cultural advantages may reach the fullest fruition."

PEOPLE'S INSTITUTION

"Instead of setting aside our university as something apart from the people as a whole, it should be looked upon as the people's institution. Within our reasonable means it should be given every scope and opportunity to function for the benefit of all our people."

"I am of the opinion that the work of the university has fulfilled expectations and has justified the expenditures which have been made," he quoted statistics to prove that more than 80 per cent

Municipal Union Convention Date May Be Altered

THE date of the convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities may be changed from September 10 to September 17.

The secretary reports that Harrison Hot Springs has been taken for September 10, and that the nearest date available is September 17. It is expected that this date will be approved, in which case the resolutions committee would convene the day prior to the convention.

of the total U.B.C. graduates are in the province and that a number of the remainder are pursuing post-graduate work at other universities.

Turning to the problem of employment of graduates, Mr. Pattullo declared: "I venture to say that many young men and women here this afternoon are wondering just where they are going to fit in."

AN INDIVIDUALIST

"I am an individualist in that I believe in the private ownership of property, and I also believe that every person should have opportunity and scope for the development of individuality and personality. But in a world in which the problems of life are daily growing more complex, it is necessary that there should be a certain degree of reconciling conflicting interests for the general good. This can be done through collective authority and that authority is the state."

"To meet the exploitation of the general public by individuals, the state has had to intervene and with the requirements of society growing ever more complex, state intervention will increase rather than decrease. But this does not mean Socialism, to which I am opposed."

ASKS DAMAGES FOR INJURIES

Action in Supreme Court Arises From Accident at Radio Station Here

Mr. Justice Lucas is presiding in the Supreme Court here at the trial of George Davis vs. George W. Dea-ville, in which the plaintiff sues the operator of the local radio station for damages sustained when he fell from a mast used on the roof of the Central Building by the radio station. The claim entered by the plaintiff is for $25,000 general damages, $200 special damages and expenses unlisted.

Harold A. Beckwith, who appears for the plaintiff, set out that Mr. Davis was an employee of the station and as such is entitled to collect for damages under the Employers' Liability Act and under the Workmen's Compensation Act. This was met by R. D. Harvey, counsel for the defendant, with the argument that the plaintiff refused to accept the plan suggested by his employer which was to use a ladder in ascending the pole and adopted a tackle which he devised himself.

This latter point Mr. Beckwith met with the statement that the defendant had finally said "All right, do it your own way."

DATES BACK OVER YEAR

The whole case centres on the breaking of a cotton or hempen rope which was used to hold a seat which the plaintiff used in reaching the upper part of the mast, on February 13, 1934, when the radio station had moved to the roof of the Central Building. It is alleged that it became cut on a spike on the roof to which it had been fastened.

The case will be proceeded with this morning at 10:30 o'clock.

REAL ESTATE BOARD TO INSTALL OFFICERS

At the luncheon meeting of the Real Estate Board, to be held today at 12:30 p.m. in Spencer's dining room, the officers of the organization for the year will be installed in office. There will also be the presentation of the various annual reports.

T. J. Goodlake, who has been re-elected president, will preside, and the other officers to be installed will be as follows: E. F. Burton, first vice-president; H. D. Patterson, second vice-president; J. C. Bridgman, M. K. Crockett, James Forman, Alex. Gillespie, F. J. D. Pemberton and A. R. Wolfenden, members of the executive committee, and Hubert Lethaby, secretary.

An auditor will be appointed for the year.

MAN SHOT ON B.C. HIGHWAY

Everett Ball, of Flagstone, Taken Into Custody Following a Shooting

Mike Harmis, an employee of the Western Pine Company at Flagstone, was murdered on the public highway at 11:30 Wednesday morning by an assailant who pursued him along the road from the wood plant and fired on him as he ran. The wounded man was found later at the roadside, with a wound from a small bore rifle bullet through the head, according to advices received by the Provincial Police here yesterday.

Harmis died a few hours later. A man giving the name of Everett Ball, of Flagstone, thirty-five miles north of Fernie, was taken into custody by the Provincial Police later and charged with the shooting.

Inquest was convened yesterday at Flagstone and adjourned for eight days. Preliminary hearing on the murder charge will take place at Fernie next week, the police said.

MARKET BOARD OPENS OFFICE

Will Commence Operations Saturday—Activities Directed at Stabilization

The Sheep Marketing Board of British Columbia will start its work of stabilizing the market for sheep and lambs Saturday. It was announced yesterday by F. G. Walde, of Albert Head, member of the board.

William Harrison, chairman of the board, is in the city arranging details, and announced that James Rainey would be the selling agent here. Office accommodation has been secured at W. & B. Wilson Cold Storage Company's Building. A similar office will be established in Vancouver.

The Victoria office will handle the Vancouver Island territory, and to avoid "bootlegging" of sheep and lambs, each carcass will be stamped "B.C. Brand."

PREVENT GLUT

Designed to stabilize the market by preventing a glut, the marketing board will keep in close touch with the public demand, and keep carcasses moving to the market at a fair price to the producer.

The price to the producer will be about nineteen or twenty cents a pound on Saturday. As the season advances and more lambs are supplied, the price is expected to drop. The decline will be gradual until it reaches a reasonable level to give a fair profit to the producer.

PRICE MORE STABLE

The officials of the board said it was not the intention to raise prices, but merely to keep the price more stable, and avoid heavy fluctuation by price cutting as exists now.

All lambs and sheep will be graded as No. 1, No. 2 and Rejections. The price will vary according to the trade.

No British Columbia raised sheep will be sold in any other way than through the marketing board, it was stated.

CHAINS ARE BROKEN BY POSTAL CLERKS

TORONTO, May 9 (CP).—The dead-letter office at Ottawa of the Canadian Postoffice Department has taken a hand in the "send-a-dime" chain letter game. Toronto postal clerks have been extracting from the mail in the last few days letters they recognized as "chainers."

A quantity of the letters have been dispatched to dead-letter headquarters at Ottawa.

AMERICAN IS DETAINED AS SPY IN JAPAN

M. A. Pierce Complains of Eleven-Day Interrogation—Others Questioned

TAKING OF PICTURES IS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

TOKIO, May 9 (AP).—The enthusiasm which M. A. Pierce, of Los Angeles, had for a Japanese holiday tour was thoroughly squelched today by his eleven days' detention and interrogation by Japanese spy hunters.

Pierce, a former Los Angeles police commissioner, said he was arrested by a plain clothes policeman aboard the liner Tatsuta Maru on which he was traveling from Shanghai to Kobe. His arrest, he said, occurred after he had taken photographs from the liner's deck.

On his arrival at Kobe, the American said, he was permitted to sleep in his hotel, but was ordered to report at a police station daily, where he was subjected to questioning for ten hours each day during eleven days.

SEVERELY GRILLED

Pierce said his grilling by the Kobe police was such that it would "make American police handling of Dillinger seem courteous."

He finally was released after paying a fine of thirty yen (about $8.40) for photographing in a fortified zone.

Mrs. Gertrude Edward Snyder, an Australian, arrived in Tokyo today and related an experience similar to that of Mr. Pierce.

She said she had been held overnight in a cell in a police station at Kogoshima and subjected to a strenuous grilling and indignities. She said she also was detained and questioned at Shimomaki, where a British Consul obtained her release.

TRAVELED IN INTERIOR

The Australian woman said police were suspicious of her activities because she traveled extensively in the interior, where few foreigners are seen.

Five Occidentals are now being held under suspicion of espionage in the Japanese island of Formosa. One is W. S. Gates, of Lancaster, Pa., a former United States navy lieutenant, and two companions, a German and a Russian, J. J. Aaland, of the Netherlands, is in custody at Takao, Formosa, while a German writer, Otto Kries, is being detained at Tachu.

Entertaining Plays Feature Fourth Day Of Dramatic Works

R. E. S. Players, Reese Burns Studio and Hudson's Bay Players Produce Two Comedies and Phantasy in Shrine Auditorium

An audience of 300 gathered in the Shrine Auditorium last evening to witness three plays produced as the fourth day offering of the British Columbia Drama Festival. Finals will be held Saturday night.

In her reflections when she makes herself a bed for the night out of two chairs and an ironing board. She subsequently falls asleep, dreams that an attempt has been made to drug her by the patient, and is forced to look on while patient and doctor drag a corpse away to the furnace.

Lights suddenly go out, the nurse wakes up and happily realizes that it has all been a dream. Rosa Semple was at her best in the nurse's part.

The cast was: Rosa Semple, nurse; Rueben Hardy, doctor; Clara Colby, patient; A. Colby, corpse.

Lady Tupper, adjudicator, said the play was most amusing, but the stage should have been darkened more during the dream and more props used. She congratulated Rosa Semple on her monologue.

"O Bon Matsuri," a legendary phantasy, was directed by Elsie Burns Studio Players. The scene is set in an old Japanese cemetery, where five pale waifs of the dead fit about wishing for release from earthly burdens and admission to paradise.

A student, Matsu Yoshitomo, meets the Daimyo and begs to wed her, even though he finds out that she is not of flesh and blood. The play ends with student and wraith drinking a potion that welds them together for all eternity.

Those in the cast were: Joan Trump, Preen; Elsie Finlayson, O. Shiro-Hano; Mary Martin, O. Haru; Gertrude McDonald Partridge, O. Kiku; Erna Helene Falk, O. Matsu; Daisy Brown, O. Take; Mary Brown and Pamela Allan, spirits; Norman Buckle, Sotan; Harold L. Gelling, Matsu Yoshitomo; Hugh Allan, the Daimyo. Noreen Cooper was wardrobe mistress.

Lady Tupper asserted that "O Bon Matsuri" was a most delicate and beautiful prose poem, but extremely difficult to present in the form of a play. She said there was not enough Japanese feeling in the production, that the ghostly atmosphere was not emphasized adequately and the moonlight was too strong.

Directed by Dan MacDonald, Hudson's Bay Players presented a comedy, "Pearls." A brother gives his sister a string of pearls on her birthday. An older sister, the mother of the family, learns that some pearls have been stolen from the department store, where all three work. Strong circumstantial evidence points to the boy as being the guilty party, and the girls do all in their power to shield him. He is ignorant of their belief that he is a felon. The plot gradually unfolds, the brother learns of his sister's doubt, is indignant, becomes reconciled, and they get on with the birthday party.

Lady Tupper stated that "Pearls" was extremely well cast. Props were well arranged, the play was well directed and both acting and characterization were excellent.

Those in the cast were: Kae Burnett, Peggy Lewis, the older sister; Yvonne Zala, Ed Lewis, the brother; Marguerite Jeeves, Polly Lewis, the young sister; Herb Doherty, Brown, a stranger.

North Saanich Service Club Little Theatre play, "The Little Father of the Wilderness," was not presented. A member of the cast failed to appear, so the play was withdrawn.

READVOCATES LARGE PUBLIC EXPENDITURE

$200,000,000 a year during the period of the depression," the Premier said.

"If our share, say $15,000,000, were allocated to this province without interest, we could absorb practically all the employable now out of work with provision to take care of the situation in the various municipalities, and the unemployment problem would be solved except for the normally unemployable and indigent, who have to be taken care of in any event," the Premier continued.

"The argument has been used that Great Britain discarded its public works programme. Many billions have been spent publicly in Great Britain, while private endeavor has been encouraged on a stupendous scale, notwithstanding which fact consideration is again being given to an extensive programme of public enterprise. Practically every country in Europe has adopted a public works programme."

PONTINE MARSHES
"In Italy, Mussolini reclaimed 10,000,000 acres of the Pontine marshes adjacent to Rome, which for centuries have lain undeveloped, but now are populated with scores of people in comfortable positions. Ten million acres is a big tract. The total area of agricultural lands in British Columbia does not exceed 25,000,000 acres. Japan is financing activities in Manchukuo through the use of its credit."

"We in Canada stand on the brink hesitating to take action, notwithstanding the fact that we have the man-power and the natural resources, and it is only a question of bringing the two together. I believe that there is less excuse for unemployment in Canada than in any other country in the world, because we have so great natural resources to justify expansion of our internal credit, without jeopardizing our external credit," the Premier continued.

"Everybody knows that the cost of living has recently been going up. This means that the purchasing power of the dollar is decreasing. It follows that there must either be more dollars available to spend, or there will be a lowering of the standards of living. The general standard of living should go up instead of down," he said.

THE PREMIER'S ADVICE

After discussing the effects of tariffs on trade, and advocating revision of the whole position of the West in the Canadian partnership, the Premier gave the following advice to British Columbia citizens: "May I say this to you. Strive for the exercise of common sense. Neither lose your head nor your feet in difficult circumstances. Learn to differentiate between the true and the false. Endeavor to properly evaluate the many things in life in relation to each other. Equip yourself to find the grain of wheat in the bushel of chaff, or if the grain is not there, to realize that it is all chaff. And always remember that truth and honor and justice always were truth and honor and justice, and always will be."

Earlier in his remarks, the Premier said that the Government proposed to take care of 500 young men between the ages of twenty-one and twenty-five this summer, in forest protection work and by sending some out to engage in placer mining. Depending on Federal help, it was also proposed, he said, to create work for married men on relief by the expenditure of several million dollars.

WE consider ourselves fortunate to be listed in "Who's Who" or the Social Register, but our rating in the files of the Retail Credit Bureau is far more important in our daily lives!

For here, in this "Who's Who" of Business, are listed the credit records of the citizens of this community. How they pay the grocer, the butcher, the other stores, the physician, and the dentist—every credit granter—or HOW THEY DON'T!

No guesswork—no hearsay—only facts are recorded. The records are constantly revised through reports from members, periodical check-ups, and a close watch over court records and other sources of information. And each member of this Credit Bureau—and of over 1,200 affiliated credit bureaus of the National Retail Credit Association throughout the country—has access to these records.

So, prompt payment of accounts builds a credit record of priceless value not only here at home, but wherever and whenever credit is needed.

Keynote When King
Meets Parliament

Royal family, while in the hall were members of the House of Commons and House of Lords, Indian princes, the Empire representatives and the English judiciary.

A NEW MEANING
"You have made the throne not merely a symbol, but a living reality," said the Lord Chancellor, Viscount Sankey, on behalf of the peers. Your Majesty has called forth love and loyalty, which has given a new meaning to the name of king.

"You are more than a sovereign," said E. A. Fitzroy, speaker of the House of Commons. "You are the head of the nation and you have made a household."

Repeating to the addresses from the Lords and Commons, His Majesty spoke as follows:
THE KING'S ADDRESS
"I thank you from my heart for the loyal addresses and for the words of devoted affection which you use in speaking of myself and the Queen and our family."

"Your presence here today, accompanied by the Prime Ministers of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa rise to my memories and many thoughts. The Mother of Parliaments and her children, grown to full estate, stand now, upon equal terms in common allegiance to the Crown. The unity of the British Empire is no longer expressed by the supremacy of the time-honoured Parliament that sits here at Westminster.

"The Crown is the historic symbol that unites this great family of nations and races scattered over every quarter of the earth. The Dominion of India, the numerous colonies and dependencies embrace such wide varieties of speech, culture and form of government as have never before in the world's history been brought into a commonwealth of peace.

FLAG OF FREEDOM
"In these days, when fear and the preparation for war are again astir in the world, let us be thankful that the flag of freedom is still flying over the earth's surface, and that under our flag of freedom so many millions are their daily bread in far distant lands and climates with none of them afraid."

"I especially welcome here today representatives of my Indian Empire. This, my Palace of Westminster, in the mighty heart of our empire, is the very cradle of our civilised Parliamentary institutions. Beneath these rafters of medieval oak, silent witnesses of historic tragedies and pageants, we celebrate the present under the spell of the past.

PERFECT HARMONY
"It is to me a source of pride and thankfulness that the perfect harmony of our parliamentary system, which has survived the shocks that have in recent years destroyed other empires and other liberties. Our ancient constitution, ever adaptable to change, has during my reign faced and conquered perils of warfare never conceived in earlier days. It has met and satisfied new democratic demands both at home and overseas. The system, again modified for the needs of a new age, has been found once more, as of old, the best way to secure government by the people, freedom for the individual, the ordered strength of the State and the rule of law over governors and governed alike."

GROWTH OF CENTURIES
"The complex forms and balanced spirit of our constitution were not the discovery of a single era, still less of a single party or a single person. They are the slow accretion of centuries, the outcome of patience, tradition and experience constantly finding channels old and new for the impulse towards liberty, justice and social improvement inherent in our people down the ages. When my grandmother, Queen Victoria, of illustrious memory, rejoiced with her people on the occasion of two jubilees, she gave thanks for a long period of unbroken prosperity. Such periods cannot always recur."

"In looking back over twenty-five years of my reign the thankfulness that I feel is chiefly for escape from the danger greater than ever before threatened our land."

RANKS WERE CLOSED
"I can never forget how peril from without at once united all parties and classes and governments and races of the Empire. Men and women played their parts. The ranks were closed and in the issue strength upheld the free. Let us not in this hour of thanksgiving fail to remember those who gave their lives, or who live now, maimed or blinded, that we might continue to enjoy the blessings of life."

"Through later years our path has led uphill. In the aftermath of war, in a world exhausted by its ordeals, impoverished by its destruction, we set ourselves to resume our normal life."

Relief Offered to the Deaf
Those suffering from deafness and head noises are offered a new form of relief by H. T. Dale, now at the Dominion Hotel for the balance of this week. Mr. Dale introduces an entirely new type of hearing under the name of "Bone Conduction," shown for the first time in Canada. It eliminates the use of unsightly instruments through the introduction of the smallest hearing aid yet known, and wonderful results are claimed for it. Mr. Dale has many qualifications for this work, having trained both in Toronto and New York.

Cooking School Is Making Appeal to Women of Victoria

New Ideas to Be Found in Recipes Demonstrated by Claire Andree—Attractive House Frocks Are Shown in Style Display

THE Daily Colonist Cooking and Homemakers School continues to attract great interest and the Shrine Hall was filled to capacity yesterday afternoon when Miss Claire Andree, the lecturer, conducted the second of the series of classes. The school is being sponsored with the co-operation of the B.C. Electric Railway Company and the Hudson's Bay Company. Over 400 women attended yesterday.

In a most practical and appealing way, Miss Andree demonstrated the making of a number of unusual dishes, which will doubtless be added to Victoria housewives' collection of recipes and will be enjoyed by all who sample them.

Definitely and quickly, she mixed her ingredients, explaining carefully each process as she went along and affording the audience ample time for questions. "It is too bad that much of the success of cooking depends upon experience," said Miss Andree at one point, as she was explaining the "feel" of cake mixtures, a point which is important in the success of a really excellent finished product.

RECIPES ARE GIVEN

The following recipes were given out and made by Miss Andree:

Veal Chops, Orleans—4 veal chops (rib), salt and pepper, 1/2 onion, dry mustard, ring of green pepper, 1 cup broken noodles, 2 cups tomato puree, 2 cups water.

Method—Sprinkle chops well with salt, pepper and dry mustard, then needed, 1/2 teaspoon almond, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Method—Cream shortening and sugar. Add cocoa blended with half the hot water, and soda added to the remainder of the water. Next add sifted dry ingredients and lastly beat in sour milk, almond and vanilla. Bake in 7x10 oblong pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) thirty-five minutes. Cover with "Snow White Icing": 1 egg, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, icing sugar to thicken.

Apple Sauce Pie—2 cups sweetened apple sauce, 1/2 cup chopped nuts, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1/2 cup chopped raisins, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg.

Method—Mix all ingredients, pack into tray of mechanical refrigerator and let stand six hours.

Concordia Nut Bread—3 cups flour, 3/4 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup pineapple juice, 1/2 cup crushed pineapple, 1/2 cup nut meats, 3 tablespoons melted shortening.

Method—Sift dry ingredients into a bowl, beat eggs, add milk, juice and fruit, and stir into flour mixture. Stir in nuts and shortening. Turn into greased loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for forty minutes, advance heat to not oven (425 degrees), and continue baking for ten minutes. Remove from pan to cool.

A Pleasure Boat—1 large banana, ice cream.

Method—Select a large, firm banana. Remove a section of the skin, being careful not to tear the ends of the skin. Take out the fruit and then fill the shell with ice cream. Top with a sail (cut out of paper). Children will enjoy this.

A particularly delicious pie, the recipe of which was not included in the printed folders which were given to each woman who attended the class was as follows:

Graham Cracker Pie—Twenty Graham crackers rolled finely, to which half a cup of sugar, a cup of melted butter were added. Mix the dry ingredients, saving three-quarters of a cup of the crumbs for the top of the pie. This mixture was worked together and pressed into a pie tin to form the bottom crust and the sides. The filling was made as follows: Two cups of milk, two tablespoons of cornstarch, half a cup of sugar, a few grains of salt, the yolks of three eggs. This was cooked until thick and poured into the tin. The meringue for the top was made with the whites of three eggs and sugar, and the whole topped with crumb mixture. It was baked for about twenty-five minutes.

Baked Fish With Peanuts—Three tablespoons of shortening, 3 tablespoons of flour, salt, pepper, cayenne, 3 cups of hot milk, 1-2 cups of flaked fish, 1-4 cups of peas, 3 hard-boiled eggs, fine biscuit crumbs. Method: Blend shortening with flour, add salt, pepper and a few grains of cayenne. Stir in hot milk; cook over hot water. When thickened, stir in the fish, finely-chopped peanuts and minced eggs. Turn into baking dish, cover with crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for fifteen or twenty minutes.

Glazed Ham With Sweet Potatoes—Ten pork sausages, 5 slices of cold-boiled ham, 3 or 4 sweet potatoes, pecans, and 1-2 cups of maple syrup. Method: Wrap two pork sausages (or small) in a slice of ham and fasten with a toothpick. Place in a shallow pan and brown in a hot oven (425 degrees F.). Drain off fat. Boil, cool and peel the sweet potatoes and cut them in half lengthwise. Arrange flat side down in a large baking dish, alternate with ham rolls. Place two or three pecans on each sweet potato and pour on about half a teaspoon of the drained fat. Bring syrup to a boil and pour on sweet Method: Soak the gelatine in cold water, dissolve with boiling water. Add lemon juice, a little salt and green coloring until a rich emerald. Set aside to cool until it starts to jelly. Rinse a ring mould, and line sides of it with scalloped cucumber slices, then pour in half of the gelatine mixture and allow to set. To remaining gelatine, add cucumber pulp, salt, pepper and paprika. Pour into a bed of lettuce. Fill centre with a well-seasoned salmon salad.

Attractive Dresses—Early in the afternoon's proceedings, a number of incipient and dress house frocks were shown by the Hudson's Bay Company. These included gay prints and gingham with fresh organdie collars, sleeves and trimmings and made so snuggly ironing to make them again crisp and smart after laundering.

A practical washing demonstration was also discussed. Another interesting demonstration was that of enamel. Miss Andree showing how a few touches of quick-drying enamel could make the home bright and sparkling, this demonstration having particular appeal for those who are turning their attention to the annual task of Spring cleaning.

Cups of delicious tea and coffee were served to several women in the audience, and at the close of the session the various dishes, which had been made during the afternoon, were exhibited.

The final sessions will be held at 9:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. today.

Lovely Home Is Scene of Garden Fete

Although driven indoors by a heavy shower of rain, delegates to the thirty-fifth annual convention of the British Columbia branch of the King's Daughters and 250 other guests who attended the garden party held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. David Spencer, 2006 Cook Street, had sufficient time to enjoy the beauties of one of the loveliest of Victoria's gardens.

A winding driveway, flanked by broad ribbons of color made by suberella, forget-me-nots and pink tulips; the glowing patches of floral color nestled against the sheer pallade of rock at the summit of which the house stands; the curving sweep of lawn, leading from loveliness to fresh loveliness of massed wall-flowers or alyssum, hedged about with rhododendron, magnolia, lilac or dogwood, made an unforgettable picture, enhanced by the fine panorama visible from any point in the grounds.

Mrs. Spencer was assisted in receiving the guests by the new district president of the King's Daughters, Mrs. William Russell. The reception room was most beautifully decked with hothouse and garden flowers of every kind, the tea table, at which Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. L. H. Hardie, Mrs. Russell and Mrs. R. R. Watson presided in turn, being arranged with roses and tulips. Miss Bertha Morley and Miss Kathleen Roberts were responsible for the well-organized tea details, the serving being done by a capable

The members of St. Mary's A.Y.P.A. enjoyed a "treasure hunt" on Wednesday, in which those participating had a lively time finding the treasures. At a short business meeting before the regular programme commenced, it was decided to change the date of the "country fair" to June 12. The members were further entertained with an interesting talk by the president, George Bennett, concerning the construction of the Thunderbird Bowl, which he helped to make. The programme for the evening was concluded with refreshments. At the next meeting, the nomination of officers will take place, and it is hoped that there will be a large attendance.

The train struck the man, did it not?" asked the lawyer of the driver at the trial. "It did, sir," was the reply. "Was the man on the track, sir?" thundered the lawyer. "On the track?" asked the driver. "Of course he was. No engine-driver worth his job would run his train into the woods after a man."

Remember?

... 'way back, when you were a very little fellow and life was a baffling tangle of joys and sorrows... of skittles and lollypops and cut fingers and skinned knees... and life would have been just simply impossible without a certain someone to run to... that someone who shared the joys and so-laced the hurts... well, mr. man, that someone is counting on you right now... she's counting on you to remember the particular significance of next Sunday... and wouldn't you just hate like blazes to disappoint her?

LIBERALS HEAR
TWO SPEAKERSUnemployment and State
Health Insurance Measures Are AttackedAny scheme of unemployment insurance which tends to create voluntary relief is economically and socially undesirable, J. W. Maynard,
Jr., told fifty members of VictoriaTwenty-first Century Young Liberals Club at Liberal Headquarters, on Government Street, Wednesday evening.Unemployment insurance "reduces the incentive to work and stops the need to look for employment. There are numerous individuals who are thrusting themselves into employment, but who are not employable because of mental defects, but who are not worth employing at any price because of a lack of production ability,"
Mr. Maynard asserted. These considered the largest proportion of employed during periods of normal business activity.OFFERS SOLUTION Chronic unemployment cannot be dealt with by unemployment insurance because it is caused by industries whose demand for labor is on the decline and, if benefits are paid to workers who can never hope to be re-employed in the industry, with which they have been associated, unemployment will become permanent, the speaker stated. He said the solution to the problem was not by benefits, but through shifting workers to new occupations and to new regions of the country.Mr. Maynard claimed that unemployment insurance would result in a great increase in the price of commodities, on account of the sums industries would be taxed as their share of the benefit fund.Clifford Walker attacked state health insurance as quite unnecessary at the present time. He said the present plan to establish sub-hospitals, in various districts, would result in a heavy burden to taxpayers. It would de-personalize the medical profession and patients coming under the scheme would have no choice of a doctor, but would have to be treated by those employed by a board.HIGH CODE OF ETHICS Doctors, he declared, would have to lower their fees, and commercialization of the medical profession, through state health insurance, would detract from the present high code of ethics. In the United States the average person was ill seven or eight days each year, but figures proved that in countries where state health insurance existed the period was twice as long. Mr. Walker urged the audience to draw their own conclusions.W. P. Lawson, president of the club, who occupied the chair, announced that a dance would be held on May 31. He said a softball team had been formed to enter the Softball League and would practice this evening.Safety Week to Be Launched on Network TonightBritish Columbia safety week will be launched over the radio tonight when CFCT links with, and becomes the focal point of, the British Columbia network of the Canadian Radio Commission at 8:30 o'clock for a half-hour feature.Hon. J. W. Fordham Johnson, Lieutenant-Governor, and Hon.
George S. Pearson, Minister of Mines and Labor, will speak from Government House here at the opening of the broadcast.Wires will be switched to Vancouver and CFCV to enable dialers to hear addresses by Mayor G. G.
McGeer, George B. Smith, secretary-treasurer of the British Columbia Safety League; E. H. Adams, vice-president and controller of the British Columbia Electric Railway, and William Kelly, president of the Safety League. Each speaker will talk for five minutes.

- Did you know that the progress or decline of a patient often depends on the purity of the drugs with which a doctor's prescription is filled and the conscientious care with which these drugs are compounded?
- We have but one standard by which we compound drugs. They must be the best and purest made, and their compounding in strictest accordance with your doctor's prescription.
- We want to tell you this, for it is so satisfying to know that the medicines prescribed for your restoration have been prepared just as your physician intended and with the purest drugs the market affords.

A Cockney merchant had made a said: "Would you care to have the lot of money and decided to spend piper at dinner, air?" some of it on a castle in the High-lands of Scotland. On the first evening, the butler approached him and other room, and I'll read 'em later.

Vancouver IslandBY-LAW MAY BE REVISED AGAIN*Ladysmith May Have to Reconsider Civic Estimates for Second Time

LADYSMITH, May 9.—A request from the local C.C.F. Club for permission to hold a tag day in aid of the relief camp strikers in British Columbia was granted at last evening's meeting of the city council. The tag day will be held on May 18.

The council at a recent meeting spent considerable effort and time passing a by-law to provide for local relief loans and the interest thereon. The subject was reopened when the deputy minister of finance communicated a new form of agreement, which automatically abrogates any previous arrangement. It is likely the indicated course will mean reconsidering the civic estimates for the second time to incorporate provisions for the necessary revision of the by-law.

SUSPICION REVIVED

The school trustees have revived their ancient suspicion that the council is performing a brand of financial wizardry with collected arrears in school taxes. They asked for a joint meeting of the two bodies to discuss the future allocation of collected arrears. Major Walker remarked there was nothing before the council to record a complaint in this respect, or to provide the council with basis for discussion. Alderman Cullum, who is also chairman of the board of school trustees, rose to elucidate the matter to be met by the vehement protests from Alderman Joyce that a council meeting was in progress and no provision had been made to hear a delegation from the school trustees. Alderman Steele felt there was nothing to be gained by a joint conference. The city was already being bled white by school costs, which formed the major part of the sums raised by taxation. Alderman Dady, who is also a school trustee, was met by Alderman Joyce on a point of order when he rose to speak. The first symptoms of hectic atmosphere in the council chamber for 1935 subsided when Alderman Joyce gained his motion that the request be laid on the table by a majority of three to two.

FIRE DAMAGE FLUME

Small bush fires recently have destroyed about 180 feet of the water flume acquired by lease from the Canadian Collieries. Alderman Dady said the city had gone to some expense to have the flume placed in repair some time ago and the matter of fixing the new break would be costly. The city actually had no immediate use for the flume, and it had been maintained solely to provide a measure of fire protection to the abandoned wharves. He believed that a cut in to the water main that operated the hydraulic landing at the C.P.R. transfer wharf would obviate the necessity for a flume. It was decided that the council will make an inspection of the damaged structure, and that the Canadian Collieries will be asked to waive a verbal agreement that it is no longer necessary, as much of the wharfage material is in process of sale.

Allegations of high voltage shattering radio tubes were disproved when Alderman Dady reported that the city electrician had made a voltmeter test at complaining points.

SHAWNIGAN HAS MENACING FIRE

SHAWNIGAN LAKE, May 9.—Fire Ranger W. P. Waldron was in charge of a hastily-organized crew of thirty-five men who spent all last night working in shifts to hold in check a forest fire, which started at the back of the old mill site near Shawnigan Station and had spread over nearly thirty acres.

No homes were reported in danger at any time, and the fire was held under control last night.

LANGFORD, May 9.—The monthly meeting of the Provincial Teacher Association will be held in the schoolhouse tomorrow, at 8 p.m.

The speaker will be Sargent Larsen, who commands an Arctic vessel and who has spent many years in the North. He will show some splendid slides. All members and friends are invited to attend.

No More PilesDoctor's Prescription Does the Work

Few Pile sufferers know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel. This is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories so often fail to give lasting relief and why cutting sometimes removes the pile tumor but leaves its exciting cause which may create a recurrence.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause. For this an internal medicine should be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, sold by good druggists everywhere, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, and acts to relieve congestion.

So isn't it better, when salves fail and before considering operation, to try this internal remedy when MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores invite every Pile sufferer to try HEM-ROID, with money-back if not joyfully satisfied with the help one bottle gives.

Royal Oak Flower Show Again a Decided Success

ROYAL OAK, May 9.—The annual Spring Flower and Bulb Show, held under the auspices of the Royal Oak Women's Institute at the Royal Oak Hall on Wednesday afternoon, was a decided success and excellent number of people were present to admire the numerous exhibits, which were of exceptional quality. There was some splendid work also among the children's exhibits. The affair was declared open at 3 o'clock by Mrs. John Hart, who was presented by Barbara Heal with a beautiful bouquet of Spring flowers. The prizes for the best decorated table and miniature gardens were awarded by George Robinson, and the children's section was judged by Mrs. D. L. McLaren.

H. R. W. Cox, of the Broom & Leaf Bulb Farm, had a beautiful display of named varieties of tulips not for competition.

H. Reed.

Scouts and Guides Join To Celebrate

SIDNEY, May 9.—The Jubilee celebrations were carried out here by local Scout Troops, Cub Packs and Guides by the lighting of a huge beacon fire on the Experimental Farm Hill. This formed a link in the chain of bonfires lighted throughout Canada by Scout organizations.

The huge pile of material, over twelve feet high, when lighted was seen for many miles.

Rockets and other fireworks were set off in large numbers.

Many residents from the surrounding district attended in addition to the Guides, Scouts and Cubs.

As part of the entertainment a number of interesting stunts were carried out by Guides and Scouts.

Community singing was enjoyed by all.

The Scouts were in charge of Scoutmaster Freeman King, who was the recipient of one of the Jubilee Medals presented on Accession Day.

HILLIERS ENJOYS JUBILEE SPORTS

HILLIERS, May 9.—The Silver Jubilee celebration brought out the residents of Hilliers to celebrate under sunny skies and perfect weather. The Boy Scouts, school children and all grown-ups stood at attention while the flag was raised by Frank Smith, everyone singing "God Save the King."

The school children then marched to the sports field. Very appropriate was the huge kite in red white and blue, made and sailed by Mr. Seely. A fine and varied programme was then enjoyed, with results as follows:

Girls Under 6, 50 Yards—1. Nora Gould; 2. Shirley Slaney.

Boys 8 and Under, 50 yards—1. Eric Clarke; 2. Terry Slaney.

Springett, clerk of the course, and the committee on the excellence of their arrangements. He said: "On behalf of the Victoria Riding Club, of which I am president, and in which I am still an active rider, I wish to congratulate the Cowichan Riding Club on the excellence of their meet." He hoped the club would go on to hold still better days.

"Laddie comes to the Dominion Theatre today."

The many millions of Gene Stratton-Porter readers the world over will acclaim the vivid translation of the fiction masterpiece to the screen, in the picture of the same title from RKO-Radio Studios, the makers of that other triumph, "Little Women."

Filled with the same charm that made the book the favorite of an estimated 40,000,000 readers, and possessed of the same dynamic drama, "Laddie" has a stellar cast headed by John Beal, who was catapulted to fame by his work opposite Katharine Hepburn in "The Little Minister," and by Gloria

The production has been given every asset of authenticity and entertainment excellence. So this glamorous romance of the Indian youth who loves the English nobleman's daughter, but finds he has to battle the barriers of caste and wealth to win her for his own, is wrought into an entrancing photoplay. PLAYHOUSE In the fifteen talking pictures he has made, Will Rogers has played almost every role except that for which he is most fitted. Although in real life he is one of the best-informed students of politics in the country, he has never played a political role until now. His latest film, "The County Chairman," now at the Playhouse Theatre, rectifies the omission.

WOMEN STRONG IN PATRIOTISM

D. B. Plunkett Addresses Women Conservatives on Youth Responsibilities

The importance of women's influence in national affairs and the far-reaching effect which their loyalty has had, and will continue to have on Canada and the Empire at large, were indicated in the short address by D. B. Plunkett, M.P., at a meeting of the Conservative Women's Association last evening.

In his talk Mr. Plunkett stressed the part the home played in character-building among the youth of the country. But to produce the best kind of allegiance in the children the home itself must have sound ideals. The first and original women's society in Canada was probably the quilling bee of the pioneer days. From that grew the different associations, such as the temperance societies, and other groups. The Daughters of the Empire, in the speaker's opinion, were outstanding in that they held up as their primary objects the preservation of the constitution and steadfast allegiance to the King.

IMPROVING CONDITIONS "Round the nucleus of such an ideal it has not been difficult for the other women's organizations to build the numerous societies and groups, that are doing so much to improve the national life and social conditions," it was noted.

Among the many famous women, selected as representatives of the fine character desired in the womanhood of the Empire, were Frances Willard, Edith Cavell, Harriett Beecher Stowe and Florence Nightingale.

There was a tendency in modern times for youth to wander away from the home influence, and apparently they were not as strongly under parental control as in a former time. Perhaps too much of the training of the child had been delegated to the school and taken from the home, the only real starting point for the training of a child's character. On the other hand there could not be said to be lack either of character or patriotic sentiment among the young people of the day when high school students, as in Vancouver recently, would resign their positions with their students' league because of interference in their affairs from Communist agents. He would be delighted, said Mr. Plunkett, to meet the parents of those two high school students.

UNFORTUNATE FOR YOUTH It was unfortunate that many youths and girls of today were experiencing their first use of the franchise under the present trying conditions of business depression. These young people had not yet had the opportunity to realize that there was such a thing as "prosperous times," and knew their time only under the present adverse conditions. Every possible guidance and instruction should be given these young men and women, to let them know something about the privileges earlier generations had enjoyed, and which might yet be theirs in the coming years.

Before he closed, Mr. Plunkett spoke of the Conservative leader's health. Premier Bennett, he said, was suffering from heart trouble, and physicians had warned him that only by complete rest would he be able to resume his duties. He had just heard that Mr. Bennett would consult a heart specialist while in the Old Country.

Last night's meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. Kate Palmer, who extended the thanks of the members to Mr. Plunkett. Announcement was made that the meeting on Thursday, May 16, would be addressed by R. A. Woolton.

Scenes From Far East Highlights In Talking News

BRILLIANT scenes from the Far East are depicted in The Daily Colonist Universal Newsreel, now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

The oldest dynasty in the world greets the newest as the Manchurian ruler meets the Mikado with all the settings of a state ritual. In Vancouver a novel passenger was found on the fire department truck when it was discovered that a pet skunk had joined the crew, "just for the ride."

Thrilling scenes of the classic boat race, in which Cambridge beat Oxford in the Thames regatta, are shown. A seven-alarm blaze in Brooklyn, New York, brings injury to more than two hundred persons. These and other events of world interest are brought to the screen with Graham MacNamee as the talking reporter.

Commercial Baseball League Nines Will Clash Tonight at Royal Athletic Park

WITH two strong squads lined up for battle, Sons of Canada and Stockers, Commercial Baseball League nines, will make their season's debut this evening at the Royal Athletic Park at 6 o'clock.

"Sonny" Walker, youthful mound ace, will parade to the slab for the Canadians, and will in all probability be opposed by Halcy Jackson, former Sidney twirler, on the hill for the Stockers. Wally Scott, smart receiver, will complete the moving-men's battery, and Bill Teskey, 200-pound catcher, will be behind the bat for the Sons.

Sons of Canada have the same club as last year, and will be a dangerous contender for the league pennant. Their roster includes Alex Dick, Art Carr, Hugh Thorburn and "Sonny" Walker, as pitchers; Tom Restell, first base; Bob Wensley, second base; Maurice Constable, third base; "Red" Palmer, shortstop, and J. O'Connor, T. Scouler, G. Clayton and D. Mowat as outfielders.

Stockers have signed Wally Scott, Jackson, J. Casey, L. Murray, H. Rabey, G. Jones and H. Harris, and should be capable of giving the Sons of Canada a tough battle.

DOG CHECK-UP IS BEING MADE

Measure Is Contemplated to Protect Gardens of Private Citizens

While N. F. Lord, city collector of dog taxes, is checking up on dogs more closely now that the time has expired when licenses should be secured, it is expected that even more drastic action will be taken.

Alderman John Worthington for some time has been considering the advisability of strengthening the by-law controlling dogs, with a view to minimizing the amount of damage done to private gardens.

The city for some years has been encouraging the development of beautiful floral gardens without fences at the front of homes to obscure them from public gaze.

Operating against this policy has been the number of roving dogs, and owners of dogs taking their animals for walks without having them on leashes.

It is quite probable that a measure may be introduced compelling dogs to be on leashes and to prevent them roving at large.

In the meantime, every effort will be made to prevent dogs from destroying poultry and sheep.

What Today Means

"TAU-LS"

If May 10 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. to 12:15 p.m., from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m., and from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 12:15 to 2:15 p.m., and from 9:15 to 11:15 p.m.

On this day it will be advisable to stick to the truth and nothing but the truth, as exaggerations or falsifications will result in trouble. Theoretical surmises will be responsible for many erroneous conclusions, so the wise man or woman will not indulge in them. Today probably will be a good one for those of an artistic temperament, and constructive thinking may result in some very satisfactory work being started. This is an excellent day for the getting together of congenial friends, visiting or entertaining, providing excesses are not thought essential to create a festive atmosphere. On this day there may be a tendency to repeat the same thing over again and again, in conversations, so you will guard against this if you wish to avoid becoming tiresome. Married and engaged couples, as well as those dreaming love's sweet dreams, will show good judgment if they will refrain from expressing disapproval of any suggestion without first weighing carefully the effect of their words.

If a woman, and May 10 is your birthday, it should be very enjoyable if you will make up your mind to do your part in making it so. It will be wise to judge things today by the

The United States Government has declared the scheme illegal, but that doesn't stop the flood. OATH OF JEHOVAH GUARDING THRONE

Head of British-Israel Federation in Canada Speaks on Stability of British Throne

The National Anthem was sung and part of the Accession Service, including "The Old Hundred" and the Thanksgiving, formed a special feature of the British-Israel meeting on Tuesday evening, which was addressed by the president of the Canadian Federation, W. H. Blackaller, on "The Secret of the Stability of the Throne."

Referring to the broadcast of the King's speech, the lecturer feelingly recalled that amid all the jubilation of cheering crowds and congratulations from all parts of the Empire, the King remembered the sad, the sick, the unfortunate and the little children. This human sympathy was the unending bond between His Majesty and a devoted people.

STABILITY OF THRONE

"The secret of the stability of the British Throne is the oath of Jehovah," stated the speaker. "When David desired to build God a house for His worship, he was told that God would build him a house, or line of descendants, which should endure forever. Every attempt to overthrow the perpetual throne had perished, and any such future attempt, whether secret or open, would meet with a like fate. The elements of Nature had been used for the protection of the Throne. He blew with His wind and they were scattered; was inscribed of the Armada. The rain that fell before Waterloo changed the destiny of Europe," Mr. Blackaller declared.

Mr. Blackaller, accompanied by Mrs. Blackaller, left by the night boat for Vancouver to attend the funeral of the late Professor E. Odum. The chairman stated a telegram of condolence had been despatched.

NO CHANGE IN FOREIGN POLICY

LONDON, May 9 (CP).—No change in the position of the Dominion Governments with respect to Empire foreign policy has been discussed, and now is contemplated, Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald stated yesterday.

The Prime Minister categorically repudiated a story appearing in an Opposition paper here today concerning the talks between heads of the British and Empire Governments which have been carried on in the last few days and will be concluded tomorrow.

The Government of the United Kingdom, he stated, firmly adhered to the principles governing the system of consultation in relation to foreign affairs which had been agreed upon at successive Imperial conferences, and was at present being followed.

COURT DECIDES DIATOMITE CASE

Original Company Is Given
Control Over Business—
Defendants Protest

Judge J. Charles McIntosh, in the County Court Wednesday, disposed of the case of Canada Diatomite, Limited, and W. A. Laming vs. Canadian Syndicate, P. J. H. van Oudenal and J. M. Potter, after the defendants with their counsel dramatically withdrew from the hearing, claiming that the County Court lacked jurisdiction in the matter. His Honor ordered after hearing the evidence in the case that the defendants should hand over to the plaintiffs the lease to the site used on the Industrial Reserve, the plant with machinery and the documents which pertained to the company's affairs.

E. V. Finland appeared as counsel for the plaintiffs. C. Harold Tait, as counsel for the defendants, entered a preliminary objection, taking the ground that the values that were represented in the action carried it beyond the limit set within the jurisdiction of the County Court.

ASSUMES JURISDICTION

Mr. Finland took the position that the value represented in the claim fell far short of the $1,000 limit set for County Court actions. The court upheld Mr. Finland's contention, when Mr. Tait, after expressing due deference to the court, said that he would take no further part in the proceedings and with his clients withdrew from the court.

The evidence by witnesses called and by the production of documents showed that the defendants had undertaken to carry on the business, paying the bills necessary for the erection of the plant. There were to be various undertakings carried out by the defendants, which it is claimed, were not executed. Instead, it was shown that there had been a dismantling of the plant to some extent and there had been an injunction taken out against the operators by the Attorney-General, which upset matters.

TERMS OF JUDGMENT

Under the terms of the judgment given, the business management will pass into the hands of the plaintiff company, which is given control of the plant.

The plaintiff company will also be given all documents that were placed with the Government during the proceedings leading up to the injunction, which have to do with the affairs of the plant.

Winning Streak of Cy Blanton Halted By Terry's Giants

Carl Hubbell Beats Pirates' New Sensation of the Mound by Scoring 3-1 Victory—Cubs and Dodgers Win—Cleveland Back in Top Place in American League

NATIONAL LEAGUE
NEW YORK, May 9 (AP).—Carl Hubbell and the New York Giants today put an abrupt halt to the winning streak of the sensational Darrell "Cy" Blanton, rookie pitcher of the Pittsburgh Pirates and precocious aspirant for King Carl's screwball title. Thanks to Hubbell's highly effective work in the pinches and Hank Leiber's ability to solve Blanton's puzzling delivery with men on bases, the Giants continued unbeaten this season on their home grounds. The final score was 3-1.

Blanton, unbeaten in four previous starts and with two shut-outs to his credit, was the victim of his own wildness as well as poor support. Cy struck out six, running his total to thirty-six, but issued five passes and yielded eight hits.

Dodgers Beat Reds
BROOKLYN, May 9 (AP).—Ray Benge's splendid relief pitching enabled the Dodgers to take a 3-4 decision from Cincinnati after the Reds had tossed the game into the laps of their rivals by one bad inning.

Batteries—Johnson, MacFayden, Hermann and Lombardi; Babbie, Benge and Phelps.

Phillies Stop Cards
PHILADELPHIA, May 9 (AP).—Bucky Walters, the lad Jimmy Wilson imported from third base to do mound duty, turned in a fine job of stopping the champion St. Louis Cardinals today, and behind his four-hit pitching the Phillies won the series opener, 2-1.

A single by Mickey Haslin, reserve second baseman, with two away in the ninth, scored Wilson, who was winning run, and gave the twirling recruit from third base his first win since he was switched at the start of the season.

Batteries—Walker and Davis; Walters and Wilson.

Cubs Whip Braves
BOSTON, May 9 (AP).—Tex Carleton, six-foot right-hander who turned back the Boston Braves six times last season, led them to five hits today to give the Chicago Cubs a 5-1 victory in the series opener.

Rabbit Maraville returned to the National League competition for the first time since 1933, when Leslie Mallon was banished for protesting over a called strike in the fourth inning.

Batteries—Carleton and Hartnett; Betts, Rhem and Spohrer.

AMERICAN LEAGUE
CHICAGO, May 9 (AP).—The White Sox fell from first place today as Wes Ferrell shut them out until the ninth inning, and his Boston mates battered two of their younger pitchers, Lex Tietje and Vernon Kennedy, for fifteen hits and a 10-1 victory.

The defeat, first in eleven home games this season, ended the Chicagoans' three-day possession of first place on a percentage basis, but they remained a half game ahead of Cleveland in games won and lost.

Batteries—W. Ferrell and R. Ferrell; Tietje, Kennedy and Shea.

Browns Finally Win
ST. LOUIS, May 9 (AP).—Aided by timely opposition errors and the light pitching of Dick Coffman, the St. Louis Browns finally broke the back of the season's most persistent losing streak this afternoon by hanging up a 4-2 victory over Philadelphia.

Batteries—Coffman and Hemeny.

Indians on Top
CLEVELAND, May 9 (AP).—The Indians took a short route back to the American League lead today, pasting the Yankees, 6-0, in a five-inning game while the White Sox were losing to Boston. That gave Cleveland first place, 733 to 722.

To Meet in Important Heavy Bout

In a Summer of spectacular sports contests, the bout in New York City, June 25, that brings together former heavyweight champion Primo Carnera and young Joe Louis, Detroit negro, is a standout. It points the way to a return of the million-dollar gate to boxing. If Louis wins, and there is every reason to believe he will, there naturally will follow the first heavyweight championship battle between a white man and a negro since Jess Willard knocked out Jack Johnson in Havana, twenty years ago. The Havana bout occurred April 8, 1915, and at that time Joe Louis, who now looms as a principal in the Summer's most stirring fight spectacle, was just an infant, scarcely ten months old. Carnera may be a hard hurdle for some fighters, but Louis' terrific punching power should bring him through with ease.

Police Revolver Team to Compete For High Honors

Having won premier honors in British Columbia in the recent Chief Constables' Revolver Shoot, the Victoria police team will compete in the finals of the event for all-Canadian honors. Representative teams from all provinces will participate in the finals.

The local sharpshooters fully realize the opposition they will meet. Inspector J. A. McLellan and Claude L. Harrison, coach of the team, said after receiving the scores of other provincial teams which qualified for the finals.

The local score was 1,333. Members of the local squad are: Detective Inspector J. A. McLellan, Detective Walter Caldwell, Detective Jack H. Rogers, who scored the highest individual in British Columbia in the original shoot; Constable A. H. Phillips and Policewoman Margaret Walker.

Chicago Wrestler Will Meet Forsgren in Semi-Wind-Up Tomorrow

Back to the Tillamook gymnasium where a few years ago he was a much-feared grappler, tomorrow evening will come Harry Demetral, Chicago exponent of the mat game and one of the roughest wrestlers to ever show before a Victoria audience.

Demetral has been signed by Promoter Fred Richardson, local impresario, for the semi-wind-up of the weekly grunt and groin programme at the local gymnasium.

Ole "Rubber Legs" Anderson, Swedish exponent of the bone-bending game from Minneapolis, will be sent in against Demetral in the five eight-minute-round semi-wind-up.

Anderson has been appearing on the top spot of many pachyderm cards in leading Pacific Coast wrestling circles and should give a good account of himself against the rugged grappler from the Windy City.

Appearing in the main event of the attractive all-heavyweight squirm card will be "Jumping" Joe Salvato, former gridiron star with the Notre Dame football squad, and Jack Forsgren, Vancouver fireman, who has been toting the boys over in spectacular fashion. Salvato and Forsgren are billed to go eight ten-minute rounds in what promises to be a lively bout.

The card will be completed, this morning with the signing of two local youngsters for the four six-minute-round special event.

Lawson Little to Seek Golf Trophy
SANDWICH, England, May 9 (AP).—Lawson Little, United States defender of the British amateur golf title, today entered the Grand Challenge Cup tournament Saturday at the Royal St. George's links.

A field of seventy-eight is entered in the tourney, including C. Ross Somerville, Roger H. Wethered, Cyril Tooley, John De Forest and Rex Hartley.

The tournament will be medal play over thirty-six holes.

MAINLANDERS WILL INVADE CITY WITH FORMIDABLE TALENT

Several Strong Crews to Appear Here Against J.B.A.A. Boats at Gorge Meet—Personnels of Cities Definitely Released—Local Oarsmen Are Training Hard

Inter-club rivalry, first established many years ago at the annual N.P.A.A.O. regatta, will be revived on the slowly rippling waters of the Gorge on the afternoon of May 24, when the cream of the Vancouver Rowing Club scullers oppose crews representing the veteran Victoria J.B.A.A. in the inter-city regatta, one of the feature events on the holiday sports programme.

Four inter-city races, all over the mile course, are billed on the programme of nine events, which will include club races by J.B.A.A. crews, in addition to the races between Victoria and Vancouver scullers. The first race is billed to start at 2:30 o'clock. It is expected that hundreds of spectators will line the vantage points overlooking the Gorge waters to witness the many races.

Vancouver is sending over the cream of its sculling material for the regatta and feels fully confident of making a clean sweep against the local oarsmen. However, in the J.B.A.A. camp, where the boys have been training nightly under the watchful eyes of Coach Dan Moses, there is nothing but optimism.

FEATURE EVENT
The feature race on the programme will be the eight-oared event, in which the Victoria J.B.A.A. will match their skill against the strong Vancouver crew. Some good men are lined up in the crews and the race is expected to be exceptionally well contested.

Tom Townley, stroke of the V.R.C. eight, is a very promising youngster who last year won the novice event. Les Callan, who rows number seven, is a member of the last N.P.A.A.O. junior four, and Al Marlar, number five, rowed here last July 1. The other members of the crew will average around 180 pounds and are all good scullers.

Victoria J.B.A.A. will place the cream of its rowing material against the Mainlanders in the eight-oared event in a desperate effort to capture the honors in the feature race on the programme.

In the Vancouver Rowing Club fours, Chris Usher, stroke of the J.B.A.A. four in last year's N.P.A.A.O., will occupy this position with the Mainland crew. Usher has been displaying good form since joining the V.R.C. and is rated as one of their star performers.

Ted Macdonald, winner of the junior singles in the 1932 N.P.A.A.O. regatta, will row with "Babe" Jaggard, one of the best-known Pacific Coast oarsmen, in the singles. Butler has won many honors as a sculler and may go East for the Canadian Henley this year.

BEST MATERIAL
Against this strong and impressive list of Vancouver Rowing Club scullers, Victoria J.B.A.A. will pit its best available material in hopes of providing the spectators with plenty of excitement and bringing home additional honors to the veteran club.

Monte Butler, ranked as the best 140-pound man ever on the Coast, and twice a winner at the major regatta, will carry the Vancouver Rowing Club's colors into the singles. Butler has won many honors as a sculler and may go East for the Canadian Henley this year.

Dusek Fixing Up His Opponent
In three mid-week games held Wednesday, two surprise results were the order of the day. McLeod's Garage suffered their first defeat at the hands of Jackson "A," 201 to 142.

Bill Jackson, of the Jackson "A," was high man with twenty ringers. Captain Bennett, of McLeod's, followed with thirteen perfect throws, but the consistent throwing of the Jackson Street boys proved too strong for the Garage men.

The lowly Veterans of France pulled a feather from the cap of Rennie & Taylor by soundly beating them, 193 to 179. It was a well-contested game all the way and was anybody's game right up until the last few ends. George Ledingham was high scorer with twenty-four perfects, with Jimmie Keatinge closing behind with twenty-one ringers.

Pioneer "B" won over the Naval Veterans "B," both of their pairs winning.

The balance of this week's schedule is: Knights of Pythias meet the Strathcona Hotel tonight, at 8:30, at Bay Street and Fernwood Road, and the Pioneer "A" meet the Naval Veterans "A" on Saturday, at 2 p.m., on Blanshard Street.

BASEBALL MEETING
Plans for the organization of a junior baseball league will be made this evening at a meeting to be held in The Colonist board room at 8 o'clock. Anyone interested in helping the younger ball players is invited to attend.

The standing of the Greater Victoria Horsehoe Pitching Association League to the end of last week was as follows:

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON
The Order of the Golden Fleece—This order, which is considered the most desirable and exclusive of all decorations in existence, was founded by Duke Philip the Good of Burgundy, who, in addition to having been married three times, is credited with having had twelve mistresses. The names of these twelve "Queens of the left hand" are recorded in history. The first on the list was the golden-haired Maria Van Crombrugge. When the King discovered by accident that Maria was baldheaded and was compelled to wear a wig, the lady was greatly embarrassed, but the gallant Burgundian reassured her by founding the Order of the Golden Fleece. The Golden Fleece of the order commemorates the lady's yellow wig. This is the history of the order to which practically only crowned royal heads are eligible.

The United States Fes—The Moro Constabulary is a United States auxiliary military force serving in the Southern Philippines. The Moro, serving in it, are Mohammedan Malays, and their religion—frowns upon hats with brims. This religious objection was met by equipping them with red fez, each trimmed with a black tassel. The objection to a brim in headgear is that it would prevent them from touching the ground with their foreheads during prayer.

Close to 20,000 Expected to Watch Lightweight Title Fight Tonight—Canzoneri Can Make History by Regaining Crown—Held Championship for Three Years

NEW YORK, May 9 (AP).—Admittedly past his prime, Tony Canzoneri, one of the greatest of the lightweights, still can make history in his division tomorrow night battling young Lou Ambers, of Hickman, N.Y., fifteen rounds for the class championship in Madison Square Garden's final show of the indoor boxing season.

Not since Jack McAuliffe set himself up as lightweight champion half a century ago, starting a line that continued on through such ring heroes as Battling Nelson, Joe Gans, Kid Lavigne, Freddy Welsh, Willie Ritchie and Benny Leonard, has a titleholder ever regained his crown once he lost it.

SWIMMERS MAY SEEK HONORS

Fund to Be Started to Send Monica Trump, Bobby Moss and Coach East

Question of raising funds to send Monica Trump and Bobby Moss, and their coach, Colin McPadden, to Winnipeg to compete in the Canadian swimming championships, was brought before the meeting of the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club held last night at the Crystal Garden. The title meet will be held in the East May 21, 22 and 23, and therefore the committee was organized to start a campaign for funds immediately.

Miss Trump, one of Victoria's best swimmers, will compete in the 100-yard senior and possibly the century for juniors, and the 100-yard breaststroke championship. It makes the trip. Recently this fifteen-year-old star lifted the 100 and 200 yards British Columbia championships, and in 1934 she finished second in the 100 and 200 yards breaststroke Empire trials at Hamilton. Besides these achievements, Miss Trump won the 100 metres Pacific Northwest title in Vancouver last year.

Bobby Moss will seek the 100 yards junior boys' freestyle crown. In the last gala in Victoria, this youngster took the junior boys' fifty yards freestyle event in British Columbia meet in twenty-six and two-fifths seconds, which is relatively better than the Canadian record of twenty-six and one-fifth seconds in a twenty-five-yard tank.

Officials of the V.A.S.C. started the ball rolling by donating $25 towards the expenses of the trip. Also at the meeting it was announced that W. T. Stanvon will be starting a life-saving class for the bronze medalist and also a class for the award of merit next Wednesday evening at 7:30. All club members are asked to attend.

CUP FOOTBALL FIXTURE WON BY SPENCERS

Diamond "S" Boys Defeat Rangers, 2-1, in Semi-Final Match

Art Chapman's goal from the penalty spot, six minutes before full time, gave Spencers a 2-1 victory over the Outer Wharf Rangers yesterday evening in a Rennie & Taylor Cup semi-final fixture played at the Heywood Avenue grounds. The victory advanced the Diamond "S" boys to the final of the competition against the Hudson's Bay-Garrison semi-final match.

Rangers gained a one-goal lead in the initial half when Ed Ball, outside left, garnered the only marker in this session, when he beat Stewartson. Spencers' goal, nineteen minutes after the commencement of the match with a low shot into the corner of the net, Spencers' missed many excellent scoring chances in this half.

CHAPMAN EQUALIZES

Eight minutes after the restart, Art Chapman, lanky centre-forward, equalized for the Diamond "S" aggregation when his low shot got away from Belford, Rangers' net custodian, and continued its journey into the net. Spencers were having a considerable edge in the play, but their forwards failed to co-ordinate, and many chances of taking the lead were wasted because of poor work by their front line.

What proved to be the winning marker came six minutes from time, when Spencers were awarded a spot kick after Belford had spilled McMillan, their outside left, in the penalty area. McMillan took exception to being bumped and showed his disapproval by going for Belford, and a fight appeared in the goalmouth, but other players stepped in and separated the boys before any damage was done. Art Chapman took the penalty kick and scored in the corner of the net, giving Spencers victory by the odd goal in a mediocre match.

Al McKinnon refereed, and the teams were:

Spencers—Stewartson, Munro, Cann, L. Bradley, Moir, D. Bradley, Brown, Linton, Chapman, Williams, and McMillan.

Outer Wharf Rangers—Belford, L. Gelling, Thorne, Roekamp, McDonald, Dawes, Fleming, Anderson, Watson, Ball and Moir.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

WHY DO WE SAY OF A PERSON THAT HE IS "JOVIAL"? "Jovial," the proverb should run, "is next to godliness."

For the word "jovial" comes to us by way of Jupiter, chief divinity of the ancient Romans.

The connection is cemented when it is pointed out that Jupiter's alternative name was Jove, which gave the "j" in "jovial" its origin.

The characteristics of the great might try it on to see how it looked.

god Jupiter were his big-heartedness his benevolence, and his good nature.

So it was that when anybody was born under this planet, astrologers counted it a good omen, imputing to those so favored the qualities of Jupiter, outstanding among which was his joviality.

Thus Shakespeare, in his "Cymbeline," says:

"Our jovial star reigneth at his birth."

He - And so you think women have great strength of mind? Do you believe that any woman would do as Camar did and refuse a the "jovial" star's assistance to crown?

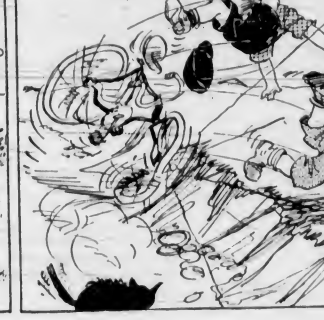

She - I think so, O' course, she Jov.

Buster Bear Finds Prickly Porky

By THORNTON W. BURGESS

No one in all the Green Forest knows more about the ways of his neighbors than does Buster Bear. When he started out to hunt for Prickly Porky he knew just what to look for. He knew that looking for Prickly Porky would be almost as hopeless as for you or I to hunt for a needle in a haystack. So instead of looking for Prickly Porky he started to hunt for trees from which the bark had been eaten, for you know it is bark on which Prickly Porky lives chiefly. It didn't take Buster Bear long to find some trees of this kind, because, of course, they stood right out just as a white house stands out among dark colored houses. The first trees he found had been stripped of their bark long ago. He knew that by the color of the wood. He didn't waste any time looking up in these trees. He just kept on until he found a tree which he knew must have been stripped of its bark that very winter.

Then Buster Bear began to look sharply in every tree. Every few steps he would stop to listen. At the foot of every tree he sniffed. He was using eyes, ears and nose to find Prickly Porky. It was his nose that finally told him that he had found the tree in which Prickly Porky was hiding.

Buster Bear's little eyes, for you know for the size of him Buster's eyes are little, snapped greedily. He sat up and looked up in that tall tree, but he couldn't see anything of Prickly Porky because of the thick green branches. He went all around that tree looking up, but it was quite in vain. However, this didn't trouble Buster Bear. He hadn't really expected to see Prickly Porky. His nose told him that tree and had not come down. That meant that he must be up there somewhere. There was just one way to find out where he was, and that was to climb that tree.

Then Buster Bear began to look sharply in every tree

Now, big as he is, climbing a tree is no trouble at all for Buster Bear. That is, it is no trouble at all if the tree is big enough. This tree was big enough and Buster started up at once. As he climbed he looked sharply along every big branch to make sure that Prickly Porky was not on one of these. Up, up, up climbed Buster and still he did not see Prickly Porky. The trunk of that tree was growing smaller. At last he reached the point where the trunk of the tree was too small for him to climb and the branches would not bear his weight. Then still some distance above him he saw Prickly Porky.

TULIP BULBS SENT AS GOOD-WILL GIFT

As a message of good will, the Tourist Trade Development Association of Victoria and Vancouver Island yesterday afternoon sent 200 dozen tulips of thirty-six varieties to Walter W. R. May, of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, and Earl Weller, of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce.

Dirk Van der Bent provided the tulips, which will be distributed to hospitals and other charitable organizations. Arrangements have been made in Seattle to photograph presentation of the flowers.

Useful to farmers as a cheap feed for livestock are shorts, a mixture of bran and other coarse material left when flour is milled from wheat. When corn is dear, many a southern farmer ferments shorts with sugar to make "corn liquor." Last week Senator Arthur Capper complained that one of his constituents in Kansas went to a local AAA office and asked for shorts for his hogs. Instead of giving help and sympathy, the young college woman whom AAA had put in charge, replied to him: "Oh yeah? What about some steps for your cow while you're at it?"

Jane Dixon Says:

AN ANSWER TO A TRAVEL QUERY—WIFE SHOULD SHOW HUSBAND SOME INDEPENDENT THINKING

Our weekly letter box.

This is my favorite day on the column because, as I told you a couple of weeks ago, variety is the spice of life.

School Teacher: I'm so glad you asked me your question, because I've wanted to spread good news and you've given me a chance to spread it.

The best travel guides I've found are the "So You're Going" series. They are written by Clara E. Laughlin and published by Houghton Mifflin Company. As I answer your query I am leading over a well-worn book, "So You're Going to France," I'm reliving a journey from Paris to Mont-Saint-Michel by way of the Loire Valley and the chateaux country. We took the journey with Mr. Ho Carson, an American resident in France for the last fifteen years, and with his daughter Jacqueline, an artist and a good fellow if ever there was one. Jac and Ho have been through the Loire Valley dozens of times, but it took a couple of foreigners with a book to show them how to discover it.

Our next well-worn volume is "So You're Going to Spain." It is so chock full of memories that whenever I feel restless I take it off its shelf and go visiting in the Basque Country, in Madrid and Toledo and Barcelona again.

I noticed that this series was prominently featured in the offices of the American Express (cashing cheques) in the Paris office. There are so many good travel books that one would get dizzy trying to follow them. I can only tell you my own experience.

Betty: You are not standing by your bargain. It was a perfectly sound bargain in the beginning, but you are making it unbound by thinking and acting only on your husband's side of it. I know from your letter that you are an intelligent woman. Use your intelligence to interest your friends, and skip the little green worm of jealousy that has crept into your Eden. Show your husband that you are an independent person and can exercise the rules that you adopted on marriage. In other words, Betty, stop thinking about what he does and thinks about what you may do by way of human interest.

Wondering: The best way to "straighten things out" is to tell the truth to those involved in your problem. I should begin with the boy who concerns you most. Tell him exactly what you have told me, but cut your story down to a minimum. Don't discuss it. Simply tell the truth and then go on to other subjects. You are allowing yourself to be tangled in a ball of yarn that will make you very unhappy. Dismiss everything the boy and yourself, and dismiss him too if he cannot understand your frankness and your willingness to play the game on the level.

PRIDE TO THE RESCUE

Broken-Hearted Woman: I do not understand your type of woman. I understand jellyfish, but not human ones. Any man who uses his superior physical strength to win an argument with a woman is a cad of the first water. No regular woman can respect such a man, therefore they cannot truly love them, because the first ingredient of true love is respect. You may charge your unhappiness to yourself. You have allowed your husband to move you around and to rough you around.

You cry "I worship him" and wonder why he doesn't give you love in return. How can he? We wipe our feet on door mats, but we do not love them.

He has told you he hates you and wants to get away from you. What is wrong with you? Where's your pride? Where's your woman's decency? The more you cling to one who is through with you, the greater grows the hate for you. You can't hold a man against his will. Let him go. Send him on his way with a smile. He's going, so you may as well park a gracious picture in his memory. Such a picture might bring him back. A fearful, whimpering woman never brought any man back.
